COAL OPERATORS AND TRAFFIC MEN

Talk Over Situation For The Coming Season.

Illinois Central Prepared to Handle
Full Output of Mines Along
Its System.

GO TO EVANSVILLE TOMORROW

The Palmer house was filled with coal operators and railroad officials this morning. It was all because of a meeting of coal operators and railroad officials to discuss the winter's coal business, and every thing points to the biggest coal business this winter ever known in this state.

"We expect the biggest coal business we have ever handled," Mr. J. Henry Scheuing, superintendent of the Nashville division of the Illinois Central, stated at The Palmer. "The meeting this morning was held for the purpose of discussing the situation and preparing for it. The railroad desires to know just how much coal will probably be handled, the output of the mines, probability of labor troubles, etc., but conditions were never better."

No labor trouble is threatened and all mines are running with full forces. It is stated that the railroad is preparing to handle the entire output and will endeavor to haul the coal away as fast as the mines can put it out.

On the Louisville division an addition 150 combination ballast coal cars have been ordered and the greater portion of them are here now. The biggest class engines have been assigned to this division and twelve additional engines of the 800 class were sent here last week.

The railroad company was represented by the following officials: O. S. Keith, Chicago, general superintendent of transportation; A. H. Egan, superintendent; F. L. Thompson, roadmaster; J. L. James, trainmaster; L. E. McCabe, trainmaster; W. C. Waggoner, supervisor; F. N. North, chief dispatcher; Master Mechanic R. J. Turnbull, Louisville and Paducah districts; J. Henry Scheuing, superintendent of the Nashville division; H. C. McCourt, superintendent of Southern lines Illinois Central.

The coal operators were as follows: F. M. Fisher, Brack Owen, William Eades, city; M. Atkinson, Louisville; W. S. Simmons, Memphis; R. Morgan, Louisville; W. S. Elgin, Nortonville; C. M. Martin, Greenville; C. W. Taylor, Greenville; W. D. McElhenny, Central City. The coal companies represented are Nortonville Coal company; St. Bernard company; Duncan company; Broadway Coal company, Memphis, Tenn., and Central City Coal company.

Tomorrow a similar meeting will be held in Evansville and Supt. Henry Scheuing will meet the coal operators there.

G. A. R. OFFICER

Elected and Monument to Wirz Is Condemned.

Minneapolis, Minn., August 17.—The G. A. R. elected officers today as follows: Commander in chief, R. D. Brown, of Zanesville, O.; senior vice commander, Wm. H. Armstrong, of Indianapolis; junior vice, E. B. Fenton, of Detroit; chaplain in chief, Archbishop, John Ireland, of St. Paul; surgeon general, W. H. Johnson, Lincoln, Neb. The proposed monument to Capt. Wirz, who was in charge of Andersonville prison was strongly condemned.

WATERING STOCK

Constitutes Perjury in New Jersey
Under Barber Act.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 17.—Governor Stokes signed the Barber act, which prevents corporations having public franchises from over capitalizing. Any officer making a false affidavit in such matters will be guilty of perjury and punished accordingly. The act results from the watered stock agitation last winter.

Another Bank Fails.

Chicago, Ill., August 17.—The Garfield Park bank, a small institution located at 2024 West Madison street, was placed in the hands of a receiver. The collapse of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank is said to have caused the doors of the smaller institution to be closed.

By the consent of the people of Paducah, The Sun has the largest circulation in the city and county. The average for July was 4132 a day.

INTO ALLEGHENY

Bodies of Non-Union Miners Are Said to Be Thrown.

Pittsburg, August 17.—Union and non-union miners clashed today at Butler Junction. One non-union miner was fatally stabbed and two others were reported stabbed and their bodies thrown into the Allegheny river. Pittsburg detectives arrested 11 unionists, alleged participants. The mines recently changed back to non-union.

EAGLES ADOPT BALLOT PLAN.

Grand Aerie at Milwaukee Also Hears Good Financial Report.

Milwaukee August 17.—The grand aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at its opening session today adopted a balloting system for the election of officers, in place of the usual method of calling the roll.

NO FUSION

SOUGHT BY INDEPENDENT DEM-OCRATS OF NEBRASKA.

Bryan's State Has an All-Night Session in Convention—Senatorial Candidate.

Lincoln, Neb., August 17.—Fusion between the Democrats and Populists of Nebraska was threatened by the action of the Democratic state convention which nominated A. C. Shallenberger for governor instead of George W. Berge, whom the Populists confidently counted upon as the choice of both conventions. Furthermore, the Democrats showed a disposition to select a straight party ticket without Populist representation upon it.

There was debate of over an hour in the Democratic convention on the question of nominating a United States senator before it was decided in the affirmative. The Democratic ticket is as follows:

United States senator, Wm. H. Thompson, Grand Island.
For governor, Ashton C. Shallenberger, Alma.
Lieutenant-Governor, Wm. H. Green Creighton.
Secretary of state, Carl R. Goucher, Wahoo.

Treasurer, Frank C. Babcock, Hastings.

Load Hits a Baseball Pitcher.

Mayville, Ky., Aug. 17.—William Jacobs, a baseball pitcher, and Addison Jones, visiting in the country yesterday, seized guns and tried to kill a cat that had been stealing chickens. The cat ran by Jacobs and Jones fired, the load striking Jacobs in the right shoulder, arm and thigh. He is thought to be fatally wounded.

HOSPITAL BOARD

MEETS THIS AFTERNOON TO CONSIDER WORK.

No Improvements Involving Large
Expenditure of Money Will Be Ordered.

This afternoon a meeting of the Illinois Central railroad hospital board is being held for the purpose of deciding on improvements to the building.

The meeting is one which was postponed several weeks ago, and plans for repairing the building and fitting out one or two new wards will be inspected.

Mr. A. H. Egan, superintendent; F. L. Thompson, roadmaster, Louisville division, arrived last night. Mr. H. McCourt came at noon and other members of the board arrived last night for a month or more. The meeting this morning. It is stated that no improvements involving great expense will be ordered.

The woman who never wonders what her husband does with so much pocket change is a pearl of great price.

CONTRACT TERMS MAY BE CHANGED

Bids For Sewer Construction are Held Up.

City Not in Position to Pay Eighty
Per Cent. of Cost of Extension on Estimates.

ASSESSED AGAINST PROPERTY

Advertisements for bids on the construction of the city sewer extensions from Ninth street to Thirteenth street are held up pending an investigation into the city's ability to enter into the proposed contract.

It reads that as the work progresses the city shall pay a total of 80 per cent of the cost price to the contractors on estimates of the engineer, the city reserving 20 per cent of the contract price until the work is accepted.

The objection to the form of the contract is that the city is not to pay for the sewer but the cost falls on abutting property owners, and without a bond issue the terms of such a contract can not well be met. The present plan is to meet the expense by an assessment, but this can not be arranged so as to provide funds for the payment of the cost as the work progresses.

City Engineer Washington says that unless this sort of contract is let the work may cost 25 per cent more, and says there will be fewer bidders, but this argument is met by the fact that the city reserves the right to reject all bids.

The principal argument in favor of issuing bonds and paying for the work as it progresses lies in the fact that it will give small contractors a chance to bid on the job. They are not always sufficiently endowed with funds to complete a large contract, like that contemplated without drawing something on account to pay their men and purchase supplies.

Under a recent provision of the charter the city may issue bonds to defray expenses of public improvements and then assess the cost against property holders on the ten-year installment plan.

Wheeler, Hughes & Berry drew up the ordinance, providing for the construction of the sewer, in the absence from the city of City Solicitor Campbell and they with the solicitor are considering the legal aspect of the case.

ENGINEERING

WORK WILL BE DONE ON THE
COUNTY ROADS.

Bert Johnson Will Save County Hundreds of Dollars By His Own Efforts.

Bert Johnson, county road supervisor, not satisfied with having made a record in economical building of roads and bridges, is cutting down the expense of his department still more. He has fitted himself out for civil engineering. He intends to do all this work on roads and already has saved the county $75, although he has had his transit and level but a few weeks. He was tinkering with the surveying instrument when a reporter happened in his office this morning. He explained that he had studied civil engineering in his school days and lately has taken it up again, seeing where he can do his own surveying and save the county hundreds of dollars in the course of a year. He bought a second-hand transit and level and paid for it out of his own pocket. The instrument cost $125 and is a fine one.

"Yes, I see where I can make money by doing this work—that is make it for the county," Supervisor Johnson explained. "And I will hereafter do all my surveying. I have already saved the county $75 surveying fees for work at Blizard pond and on Massac creek section. I am not running in opposition to County Surveyor Wren. He gets paid for surveying land, and this is a different class of work. I will get all my grades myself and think the work will progress faster."

Mrs. Mark Anthony returned last night to her home in Louisville, after visiting Mrs. William Mills, on West Jefferson boulevard.

SPALDING COLEMAN DROPS DEAD WHEN APPARENTLY WELL

Louisville, August 17.—Spalding Coleman, member of the board of public works and one of the wealthiest young men in Louisville, dropped dead in the city hall this morning when apparently in the best health. Mr. Coleman was appointed on the accession of Mayor Barth and was well-known. He was about 35 years old and of excellent physique. Coleman was secretary of the Central Coal and Iron company and was at one time grand knight of the Kentucky Knights of Columbus.

ANOTHER FRISCO DISASTER FEARED

Terrible Earthquake Shocks in South America.

Valparaiso Suffers and Fire Breaks
Out in the City—Country
Is Cut Off.

FIFTY-ONE DISTINCT SHOCKS

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 17.—An earthquake was felt in the province of Mendoza at 9 o'clock last night. Telegraphic communication with Chile has been interrupted as a result. While it is believed that no serious damage has been done, panic prevails among the people here.

New York, August 17.—Private advices from Valparaiso, Chile, this morning report that by the terrific earthquake last night many buildings were wrecked. Fire broke out and throughout the city it is feared were many casualties.

The cable operator at Valparaiso says all the land lines are down and the disaster probably is a repetition of the San Francisco calamity.

Advices from Buenos Ayres via London also state that a terrible earthquake was felt in the Cordoba De Los district, lasting five minutes. Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, also was affected by the earthquake Tuesday night. Shocks were also felt in Island St. Lucia the night of August 2.

In all 51 distinct shocks were felt.

Seismograph Records it.

Washington, August 17.—The weather bureau seismograph gives a clear record of the South American earthquake. The instrument shows that at 7:50 o'clock last night the earth swayed a quarter of an inch. The quake began at 7:20 o'clock and continued four hours.

TO FIGHT STANDARD.

European Capitalists Will Buy Out
Russian Firms.

Geneva, August 17.—Representatives of Germany, Austria and Switzerland meet early in September at Basle to discuss steps to be taken to counteract the recent action of American firms to capture the European markets. It is stated that representatives supported by wealthy financiers, will form a trust to buy out the principal Russian oil firms, and fight the Standard on a more equal footing.

BANDITS

CAPTURE MANY OF SULTAN'S
CHIEF OFFICERS.

Government Beheads All the Outlaws
Taken Prisoner—One Hundred Killed.

Tangier, Aug. 17.—Reports from the scene of yesterday's battles between the Bandit Rabsut and the sultan's forces state that over 100 combatants were killed. Several of the government's chief officers were captured and sent to the bandit's stronghold. The government retaliated by beheading all the followers of the bandit captured, carrying the heads on spears through the streets of Tangier. The situation is quieter today. The bandits are retreating.

BOARD OF HEALTH IS GETTING ACTIVE

Takes Measures For Protection of Public.

Cross Creek Situation Will Be Exposed and the Condition
Remedied.

ROTTING FRUIT NEAR MARKET.

At Mayor Yeiser's call the board of health met yesterday afternoon at the city hall. The object of the meeting was continued consideration of the Cross creek situation.

A committee was appointed to inspect the sanitary drains of all houses between Monroe street and Broadway, which empty into Cross creek. The board wants to know the nature of the refuse turned into the creek.

A committee was appointed to select a plumbing inspector to inspect the drains in these houses, under the direction of the committee. A committee also was instructed to communicate with the general council to provide means for draining and filling the pool caused by the building of the culvert on Broadway between Seventeenth and Nineteenth streets. The pool is on the left side of Broadway.

The secretary of the board of health was instructed to notify the board of public works of the unsanitary condition of the south end of the market. It is said rotting fruits and vegetables are thrown out there.

The condition of weeds in the city was more satisfactory to the board since some evidence of co-operation by the city court has been manifested.

WOMEN GAMBLING IN KENOSHA

Civic Federation Will Call Four Into Court as Witnesses.

Kenosha, Wis., August 17.—The Kenosha Civic Federation, which was incorporated less than a week ago, has made its first move, and the first victim of the sleuths of the federation are women. Officials of the federation went to Anderson's Park Sunday night and found four women playing the wheel of fortune with all the zeal of practiced gamblers. Today it was stated that the women will be called as witnesses against the operators of the games. It is expected that the women, whose names are withheld, will be summoned into court tomorrow.

RESIGNED

PRESIDENCY OF CENTRAL LA-BOR UNION.

Charles H. Hart Goes Away and Is
Succeeded By L. B. Langston, Carpenter.

On account of a proposed change in his place of residence, Charles H. Hart, president of the Central Labor Union, resigned last night, and Vice President L. B. Langston, of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, was elected to fill the vacancy. Delegate Mosely, of the Machinists' union, was elected vice president. They will hold until the regular election in January.

Mr. Hart will move from Paducah to Los Angeles, Cal., in a short time. Mr. Hart's parents are now residents of that city.

IS HARD TO KILL.

Negro Lives After Being Shot
Through Temple and Heart.

Hattiesburg, Miss., August 17.—With one bullet straight through his heart and another through his temple, entering at one side of the head and coming out at the other, Charles Williams, a negro, of this city, has survived for three days, and the prospects are that he will eventually recover. He was shot by another negro in a crap game Sunday, the wounds being inflicted by a 38-caliber revolver, fired at short range. Williams fell over as though dead.

Too Much Worthless Paper.

Boston, August 17.—A United States bank examiner closed the First National bank at Chelsea, pending investigation. It is claimed the bank carries too much paper worth less than face value.

MYSTIC NUMBERS IN POLICE COURT

Thirteen Dollars Fine for The Number Thirteen.

P. D. Fitzpatrick First Victim of the Speed Ordinance—Had First License.

OWNER OF "23" TOLD TO GO

Police court loungers crossed their fingers this morning when P. D. Fitzpatrick, whose automobile bears the "hoodoo" No. 13, was presented on the charge of fast riding, and they looked wise when he was fined $10 with $3 costs annexed.

Their eyes never popped out of their head when Henry Arenz was told he could "skidoo" Henry Arenz' machine is numbered 23, and the police said they couldn't identify him or his machine as the one they vainly chased on South Tenth street at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was the first person in Paducah to take out a license tag when licenses were issued for the first time in Paducah two weeks ago. He chose No. 13. He was followed into City Clerk Henry Bailey's office by Henry Arenz. In spirit of fun Mr. Arenz said: "I will take No. 23."

The two automobile enthusiasts walked together into the office of City Treasurer Dorian and waving the "mystic numbers," exclaimed, "We are going to tempt fate."

They are the first persons ever arrested in Paducah on the charge of violating the speed law with automobiles.

There were two charges against Mr. Fitzpatrick but only one of them was substantiated to the satisfaction of the court.

On the testimony of Mr. Ed Nance that Mr. Fitzpatrick exceeded the local speed of eight miles on Broadway and narrowly missed a small child, Mr. Fitzpatrick was assessed a total of $13.

Patrolmen Terrell and Alexander preferred charges of violating the speed ordinance against both Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Arenz. It was 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to the patrolmen, when they saw two machines dashing along South Tenth street so fast that they soon lost their blue-coated pursuers in the rear. The darkness and dust prevented the patrolmen reading the numbers. They were unable to identify either of the prisoners.

The prisoners were dismissed on this charge.

PLUCKY MATRON AND DOG

Frighten Burglar Away From Newport
Mansion.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 17.—Evidently believing that Mrs. I. Townsend Burden and her daughters, Evelyn and Gwendoline Burden, would be too fatigued, after entertaining a dance company last evening, to put away their jewels, a burglar entered the Burden villa early this morning. He was thwarted in his purpose by the incessant barking of the family pet dog and by the pluck of Mrs. Burden, who saw the robber and followed him in his flight till he disappeared in the darkness. The dog, a Pomeranian, weighs only a pound.

WILL TAKE OVER BIG CONCERN

Syndicate to Get the United Sheet and Tin Plate Company.

Pittsburg, August 17.—Preliminary arrangements have been completed, it is said, by which, within the next few days, the control of the United Sheet and Tin Plate company will pass into the hands of a group of Pittsburg, Philadelphia and New York capitalists. The property to be transferred represents a valuation of over $500,000, and includes plants at Marietta, New Comerstown, Byersville and Newark, Ohio.

BEFORE GOVERNOR'S EYES.

Was the South Carolina Fiend
Lynched.

Greenwood, S. C., August 17.—"Bob" Davis, the negro who assaulted Jennie Brooks near here Monday, was lynched at 7 o'clock last night. Governor Heyward was present and made a strong appeal to save the negro, but the mob was determined and shot the negro to death.

Partly cloudy with local showers tonight or Saturday. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 85 and the lowest today was 70.

DISCRIMINATION

Against Union Labor Is Charged by Mentor Man.

Cincinnati, August 17.—United States District Attorney McPherson is investigating charges made by a Mentor, Ky., man that several railroads running into Cincinnati are discriminating against employees, members of labor unions. Names of the roads are kept secret by the government until McPherson's report reaches Washington.

DARING GEM THEFT IN LONDON

Jewels Worth $35,000 Stolen in Daylight From Earls Court.

London, August 17.—Jewelry valued at $35,000 was stolen today from a case belonging to some Viennese merchants at the Earls Court exhibition. The robbery was committed in daylight.

ENCYCLICAL

CAUSES GREAT STIR AND RUM-ORS OF RELIGIOUS WAR.

Pope Refuses to Listen to Moderation
Concerning Principle of Church.

Rome, Aug. 17.—The publication of the encyclical condemning the separation law seems likely to cause a sudden rupture of all relations between the vatican and France and to lead to greater difficulties in the future for the Catholic church in the republic, which is left entirely in the hands of the episcopate.

The encyclical did not have the approval of a number of cardinals, who, while sympathizing with the firm and energetic attitude of the pope, fear reprisals from the French government, possibly leading to the disorganization of the French church. Their counsels of moderation and forbearance, however, failed to move the Holy Father, who was determined to make a stand for the trampled rights of the church. He trusts in Providence for a future solution of the problem.

French View.

Paris, Aug. 17.—While the militant wing of the clericals are declaring that the pope's encyclical on the law of separation of church and state means a religious war in France, other elements of the population are not at all disturbed.

Hairpin and Toothpick.

Nashville, Tenn., August 17.—Two large negro women escaped from the Sumner county jail a few days ago, and an investigation made since shows they picked a hole in the wall by means of a hairpin and an ordinary toothpick.

FOR PRIMARY

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE WILL MADE ARRANGEMENTS.

Selection of Officers of Election of Principal Interest to the Candidates.

Preliminary arrangements for the Democratic city primary will be made at a meeting of the sub-committee of the executive committee in the office of City Attorney Tom Harrison tonight at 8 o'clock.

This committee, which is composed of ex-Mayor James Lang, Police Commissioner Mann Clark, Deputy Sheriff Gus Rogers and City Attorney Tom Harrison, will confer with the candidates, especially with reference to the choice of the latter for officers of election. Probably lists will be submitted by the candidates, from which a selection will be made.

Thirteen and twelve makes twenty-five innings, and this is the number of the Hoosiers and Indians battled without any results. It is the record. The feat of the past two days will probably remain the record for years to come.

Wednesday the Hoosiers and Indians battled in a double-header and the Indians won the first. The second game went thirteen innings and ended in a tie, 2 to 2, the game being called on account of darkness. Yesterday a double-header was scheduled, but rain prevented. It was a fast infield that the teams worked on, and the playing was fast and furious when the teams did get to playing.

It was settled that only one game would be played, and when Umpire Quills called the game in the thirteenth inning, it was because the dusk was falling so fast that seeing the ball was an impossibility.

The game ended five to five. Brahe did the throwing for the Indians and Perdue for the Hoosiers. Both were confident of victory, but it turned out one of the most dogged games ever played in the Kitty League.

The Indians led off with two runs in the second. Wetzel walked to first. Haas sacrificed. Lloyd hit a Texas leaguer over first and Downing popped out to Donovan. Brahe smashed a double to right, scoring Wetzel and Lloyd, but got tagged by Whitley's throw to Mitchell, who covered third.

In the third inning the Hoosiers scored two runs and evened up matters. Downing dropped a foul from Mattison's bat, but it was a desperate chance. Then the wily catcher flied to right field and the "Chief" let it fall. Mattie got to second on the muff. Perdue met a low one to second for a single. Whitley hit over Perry's head for a single, scoring Mattison. Mitchell hit slowly to Perry and the ball seemed to hit Perdue, the runner. Perry made no effort to field the ball. Umpire Quills called all hands safe. Kolb missed three and Moran singled over Perry's head. Perry snapped the ball to Downing and caught Whitley at the plate. The side was retired by a pop fly to Wetzel.

In the ninth inning the next scores were made.

Donovan drove a fly into Taylor's mit. Mattison drove one to Cooper's mit. Perdue singled, Whitley hit for two sacks past "Pa" Lloyd, scoring Perdue. Mitchell singled to right field and Lloyd tried to throw home, but bobbled, scoring Perdue. Kolb missed three in succession, retiring the side.

The Indians evened up in the same inning. Perry strolled and stole second. Quigley singled to left, and Perry crossed the rubber at home. He went to second on the throw home. Cooper's out, Mitchell to Donovan, put Quigley to third and Wetzel flied out to Moran. While Perdue was winding, Quigley started for the rubber. Haas swung slowly, Mattison lost his noodle and dropped the throw. Quigley making the rubber. At this juncture Umpire Quills lost his noodle and ordered Quigley back to third, alleging Haas had interfered with Catcher Mattison. The rule book was brought into evidence and Quills "shown up." Quigley was called safe and Haas went to first on a balk because Perdue had stepped out of his box. Lloyd singled and Downing duplicated. Moran took the drive nicely on the bounce and fielded Haas out at the plate.

In the tenth inning Moran singled, McClelland sacrificed him to second and Barbour followed with a single. Donovan grounded out and Moran scored on the play. Mattison grounded out.

The Indians evened up in the last half. Brahe singled and went to second on Barbour's bad throw. Taylor beat out a bunt. Barbour threw wild to first and Brahe scored. Perry sacrificed, Quigley hit to Barbour and Taylor was out at third, making a double play unassisted. The next two innings saw no more scores and darkness prevailed.

Dope.

Slow work in the outfield cost Paducah the game.

Brahe was as steady as a fied and haltered horse.

Downing did not allow a single stolen base.

Brahe did splendid hitting.

"Paducah Dick" hit as well as he pitched.

Had the Indian camp been supplied with the required number of outfielders there would have been no need of going over the nine innings.

Brahe struck out three in the twelfth inning.

In spite of several accidents and bad luck the Indians held on and were coming strong at the finish. If darkness had not caused a cessation of the struggle, it would have been a safe wager that the Indians would have won out.

Brahe did not give a base on balls and only hit one man, Barbour, who took a slow one in the small of the back.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Buggy-Whip Duel.

Lexington, Ky., August 17.—John Berkley and Courtney Respass, well-known young men here, engaged in a duel with buggy whips. They were rivals, it is said, for the affections of a certain young woman, and, meeting on the highway, became involved in a dispute. They were driving each with a young lady, and, jumping almost at the same time from their vehicles, they seized their buggy-whips and began lashing each other about the legs and body fiercely. The young women begged them to stop, but they would not until the girls had pretended to drive off without them.

Returning to town, they met and shook hands and vowed their friendship. The episode has caused a great deal of comment. Young men here have fought almost every way but with buggy whips, and this is entirely out of the ordinary.

Questions for Candidates.

Frankfort, Ky., August 17.—The Rev. George W. Young and the Rev. M. B. Adams, of the Anti-Saloon league, of Kentucky, are here preparing a list of questions to be submitted to all candidates in the Democratic primary for state offices to be held this fall. At the close of the legislative session the leaders of this league announced their intention of calling on candidates of all parties who, if nominated, might have something to do with shaping state legislation to declare their position on the different phases of the liquor question.

One of Forrest's Men.

Russellville, Ky., August 17.—Captain J. B. Ryan, one of the most dashing and daring cavalry officers in the Confederate army, died at his home, about four miles south of town, last night after an illness of several months' duration. He moved here three or four years ago from Muddy river, where he formerly operated a coal mine. Capt. Ryan was first with General Forrest's command and later in the war served with McNary's regiment in General Morgan's brigade.

Sub-Committee Headquarters.

Louisville, Ky., August 17.—The primary sub-committee of the Democratic state committee has secured a suite of rooms on the eighth floor of the Seelbach in which headquarters will be established. Secretary Mott Ayres will be in charge. He has gone to the springs for a few days but will return in time to open headquarters Monday. He will be assisted by three stenographers.

Adjudged a Bankrupt.

Fulton, Ky., August 17.—James B. Preswood a well-known merchant, who has been in business in Fulton for many years, today was adjudged a bankrupt in the United States court. His liabilities are said to be heavy and his assets practically nothing.

Mystery of Floater.

The man who was found in the Cumberland river at Barbourville, badly wounded and who died, was identified as Harrison Smith, of Williamsburg. The case is surrounded by mystery.

Louisville Eagles "At Home."

The Louisville Eagles are keeping open house at Milwaukee, and are working for the election of Fred C. Hoerter as grand trustee.

Langley in the Tenth.

John W. Langley is said to be a receptive candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the Tenth district.

THE JOBBER ENDED

NATIONAL

CIGAR STANDS

CIGAR FREEDOM

The prices at which cigars of unquestioned high quality are now sold by this and the rest of the 2,000 National Cigar Stands reveal to the smoking public the extent of the taxation formerly imposed by jobbers and middlemen. The 2,000 druggists who united to form the National Cigar Stands Company, have, by their tremendous and direct buying power, stopped the "tribute money" to middlemen. Your cigar case can now be filled for many weeks each year by the money thus saved to smokers. For example is a clear Havana cigar of the best 10c quality.

Stirling Castle, 6c

Before cigar freedom was proclaimed by the National Cigar Stands Company the following prices with equal values were unknown:

Black and White: As good as was ever bought at 3 for 25c. 5c
College Days: Best domestic cigar ever sold at 6 for 25c
Adams: The finest type of all-domestic cigar 7 for 25c
La Idalia: A choice, clear Havana at 3 for 25c and up

There are six National Cigar Stands in Paducah at the following addresses and only at these stands can National Cigars be obtained.

SCARES BURGLAR BY FALL FROM BED

William Smalley's Salary Attracts Thief.

Neighbors See a White Man Waiting Near House and Witness the Attempt.

WIFE IS AWAKENED BY NOISE.

Mrs. William Smalley was awakened from her slumbers at 1 o'clock this morning to see a burglar trying to get into the window. She screamed and her husband was so startled by his sudden awakening that he fell out of bed, setting to flight the burglar.

Mr. Smalley resides at 1905 Clark street and thinks the burglar had been "laying" for him to come home with his monthly salary after cashing his railroad check. Mr. Smalley is employed in the Illinois Central planing mill and did not leave the house last night. He had secured his check, had it cashed and gone home.

"The Misses Blawett reside next door to me," he explained. "They saw a low built man, whom they took to be white, prowling about the vicinity of my house early in the night. They saw him go to the screens about 1 o'clock. The door offered no opportunities and the young women saw him make his way to the side window of our bedroom. It was while he was attempting to lift the screen that my wife was awakened. I had no pistol and had to stand and watch the marauder escape over the fence."

JOHNSON'S EYE ON CABINET.

Cleveland Mayor Plans to Dictate Ohio Democratic State Ticket.

Cleveland, August 17.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson, it is said, will be a member of the cabinet in the event that Bryan is elected president in 1936. Anyway he is playing politics for big stakes—the practical control of the Ohio Democratic party and the dictation of the state ticket to be nominated next week, as also the election of himself as state campaign manager, delegate to the national convention and member of the national committee. He plans to stampede the state convention to him by attacking in speech and reading out of the party Lewis Bernard, John R. McLean's lieutenant; Congressman Garber, present state campaign manager, and James Ross, boss of central Ohio.

Johnson was bitter tonight against the party's present leaders.

"The Democratic party," he said "can never command the confidence of the people with a lot of dirty, low political crooks clinging to it. This is a good time for house-cleaning, and all decent Democrats ought to get together to put all the gangsters down and out."

BIG PROFIT MADE.

Toledo Combine Bought Ice at $1.15 a Ton and Sold it at $10.

Toledo, O., August 17.—The most interesting witness of the day before the Interstate commerce commission was H. P. Watters, one of the owners of the Michigan Lake Ice company, and one of the ice men sentenced to the work-house by Judge Kinkaid for conspiracy in restraint of trade. Watters testified that he bought ice from the Michigan lakes, had it carried to Toledo by the railroads, and that he paid this year, $1.15 a ton, freight included. As this same ice was sold to the homes in Toledo for $10 a ton, under the combination, the testimony was of more than ordinary interest.

Sues for Illegal Fees.

Central City, Ky., Aug. 17.—Suit was filed in the Muhlenberg circuit court by Dr. T. J. Slaton, member of the last legislature, as a citizen and taxpayer of the county, against T. J. Sparks, former county judge of Muhlenberg, to recover of Sparks about $1,750 that Sparks received in fees while he was county judge, and that plaintiff claims he was not entitled to under the law. Sparks, while judge, claimed to have been instrumental in settling railroad tax of the county, and was allowed a legal fee of $1,000 for this alleged part of settlement of the tax while he was county judge. Also, while he was county judge, it is claimed that he was allowed about $750 as road and bridge commissioner. This allowance, it is claimed, is clearly illegal, and suit has been filed against him to recover these two sums making a total of about $1,750 that is sued for.

All Engagements.

ODD TROUSER REDUCTIONS

The Odd Trousers Sale which has been in progress at our store for some time past, during which all our odd trousers have been offered at one-fourth off, is probably arousing more interest than any of our money-saving cut price sales, with the exception of the suit sale, as economical dressers recognize the opportunities it affords of making a new suit out of an old one by the addition of a pair of odd trousers. One-fourth off is a strong enough cut to satisfy most people, but if that does not interest you, by all means see the special lot of 150 pairs of fine trousers, former prices $3.00 to $8.00, now being offered for exactly

One-Half Price

These are fine cassimere, flannel and worsteds, formerly among the best in our store, but they had become slightly soiled from handling, hence the big reduction.

Just Like Manna Came Chickens While Couple in Next Suite Waited

A mistake of a small negro porter employed in a down-town restaurant caused both himself and the young manager to lose jobs. It further satisfied the cravings of a man in a doctor's office and a general complication in the restaurant and a suite of rooms where a newly married couple were patiently awaiting the arrival of their dinner.

The couple occupied a suite of rooms near Fourth street and Broadway. Dinner had been ordered from the restaurant, Dr. J. D. Robertson, whose office is at Fourth street and Broadway, started home to dinner and asked Dr. Sam Washington, who is studying under him, if he intended going to dinner. The young medico replied that he would eat a light lunch and intended remaining at the office.

Three minutes after the doctor left a negro boy laboring under a big waiter laden with two fried chickens and edibles of every kind, appeared in the doorway.

"Who is that dinner for?" Dr. Washington inquired.

"His for you," the darky replied, glad to set the tray down.

"Is it paid for?"

"Hit show am," and with this the darky disappeared. So did the dinner presently, but there was so much that an office boy was brought in to help do justice to it.

Just as the tray was being set aside the sounds of fast scurrying feet were heard in the hallway. The restaurant manager and waiter entered.

"There has been a mistake," the restaurant keeper declared, but Dr. Washington calmly informed him that he had made none; that he had placed the dinner where it belonged. Dr. Washington presumed it had been sent him by Dr. Robertson.

The couple for which the dinner was intended went hungry until the order could be duplicated.

The affair caused a general shake-up in the restaurant.

Big Load of Sand.

Probably the largest load of sand for the longest distance in this county was hauled last Saturday from Paducah to Mayfield. There were 9,190 pounds of the sand and it required four of Frank McClain's big mules to haul it in his wagon. The sand was for the Mayfield foundry and is to be used in casting the large irons that are to be used in the construction of the house to be erected on the south side by Robbins & Thomas.—Mayfield Messenger.

Daily Thought.
"A laugh is worth a hundred groans."

We may expect the very bowels of the Democratic organization in Kentucky to be laid bare during the ensuing campaign before the state primary. Already the candidates are on the stump, each tearing open the record of the other. United States Senator McCreary talks of the governor's machine; Governor Beckham talks of the senator's lost opportunities in congress, and challenges McCreary to stand on his own record as chief executive; while Attorney General Hays is accusing the governor and his followers of all kinds of political crimes, and the governor is responding with a "tu quoque." Were these Republicans and Democrats pitted against each other, the amenities of the hustings would be observed, and the candidates would speak of "issues" and affairs; but all belonging to the same party and proclaiming adherence to the same fixed principles, they have nothing to discuss but personalities, and to the credit of their resourcefulness let it be said, they seem to find plenty of material.

Letters received by the Commercial club indicate that the southwestern counties of Kentucky are alive to the benefits of immigration and will be represented by large delegations at the convention in Paducah October 4-5. These counties will contribute their pro rata to the expense of the movement, and in the meantime, it is well to remember that Paducah can raise their share by purchasing a button and joining the "50,000 club," thus accomplishing two good purposes by one little act. Enthusiastic young women are selling buttons and contesting for handsome prizes offered by progressive merchants. Let everybody join the "50,000 club." That is the first move in the game of progress.

The statement made by Mayor Yelzer about the street work planned for this year shows that in this instance he has only the welfare of the city at heart and is above playing petty politics just to embarrass the general council. It is not to the discredit of the board of public works that its members are alive to the condition of the city funds, and no doubt the board will execute the will of the general council in this regard without attempting to block the progress of improvements, when it is assured that the general council and the mayor are willing to assume responsibility for financing the operations.

How ridiculous is that "smoke up" sent out to the press of the country labeled "Special," but in reality emitted from the campaign headquarters in Washington, which suggests the probability that the Republican administration is "throwing down the gauntlet" to organized labor just because Chairman Shonts, of the canal commission, is talking of working Chinese coolies in the Panama ditch. Neither Mr. Shonts nor the administration is fighting labor, they are simply trying to get the canal dug. President Roosevelt has proved himself a pretty good friend of organized labor operating within its rightful sphere.

King Edward and Kaiser Wilhelm met at Cronsberg and acted just as monarchs always do when monarchs are glad to see one another. They didn't pull each other's nose and they didn't make faces at each other. Then Ed went to Marienbad to take a bath; but the meeting didn't have anything to do with his determination to take a bath. He goes to Marienbad every year and takes a bath whether he needs it or not. We see nothing in the incident to stir Europe.

Pretty soon a lot of temporary chairmen will begin sounding keynotes and the chorus will not be in harmony. It must be gratifying to the temporary chairmen of other days, when they look back over years gone by and remember keynotes that they have sounded, to realize that they were only temporary adjuncts to those conventions and their relations to those keynotes are forgotten.

What a pity the Democratic city primary takes place ahead of the congressional election and the national Democratic convention. If William Jennings Bryan, Ollie James and Nick Longworth, after their triumphal tours through England, are successful, some of the defeated candidates for city judge will regret missing the trip.

The Livingston Banner remarks that no actress is claiming a share in Russell Sage's estate. We are not acquainted with the occupation of all the near and far distant dear ones who are organizing a syndicate to exploit their claims; but we would not be surprised if some thespian is counted among the horde, who feel slighted by "Uncle Russell's" will.

Uncle Joe Cannon on receiving his seventeenth consecutive acclamation nomination for congress at Danville, Ill., declared to those who precipitated his boom for the presidency, that just now he is thinking about the congressional race. Et tu, Ollie?

It may be that the man in Ohio, who was married twice and twice widowed, felt his heart return to its old love of thirty-five years ago, but we're betting the Hopkinsville school m'am, who married him, was just simply tired of teaching.

The Jam of Navanagar, Prince Ranjitsinhji, is dead. He was ruler over Nawanagar, whose capital of the same name is situated on the gulf of Cutch on the peninsula of Kathiawar. Any small boy ought to know where the jam is.

Maybe, Ollie James is waiting until that auspicious season when all the other candidates, by their abuse and exposures will have disqualified each other, and he will have the nomination handed to him.

Mayfield papers are crowing loudly because nobody was lynched in Paducah Monday night by a mob. But, our dear friends, there wasn't any mob.

HARMONY.
Bryan says to Sullivan, "Get out." Hearst says to Sullivan, "Get out." Pulitzer says to Taggart, "Get out." Meanwhile, Hearst makes faces at Bryan, although they work to a common end in trying to rid the party of Sullivan, and Bryan ignores Hearst. Sullivan blames Dunlap. Taggart says, "Why should I resign?" John K. Kern echoes, "Why should Taggart resign?" Hearst plays battledore and shuttlecock with Taggart. Croker frames up a job on Millionaire Wm. Randolph, and from across the water deputizes his people to see that W. R. doesn't get the nomination for governor of New York.

Jerome says he'll take the nomination for governor of New York just to keep Hearst from having it.

Beckham and McCreary go down to broadaxes in Kentucky.

Alton B. Parker says Hearst is no Democrat.

John W. Spencer says Duncan C. Givens likewise is no Democrat.

All of which suggests the possibility that—

BACHELORS IN UNIQUE REUNION

Wedding a Feature of Illinois Association Meeting Tomorrow.

Nokomis, Ill., August 17.—The fifth annual picnic and reunion of the Central Illinois Bachelors' association will be held in this city next Wednesday. Fully 20,000 persons will be present. One of the features will be a parade in the morning of comic floats contrasting bachelorhood with married life. Another important event will be a wedding in the grand stand. A complete housekeeping outfit will be presented to the lucky couple. Every member of the association has agreed to propose marriage to some bachelor girl while on the picnic ground during the reunion, and as a result it is expected that an epidemic of weddings will break out.

FORBIDS RED CROSS MISUSE.

Convention of the Geneva Conference at Alms at Reform.

Washington, August 17.—Anti-septic barber shops, pharmacies and patent medicine manufacturers throughout the United States will be compelled to cease using the red cross as a trade mark if the convention agreed upon at the recent international Red Cross conference in Geneva is lived up to in every detail by the United States. Nearly all other countries have safeguarded the insignia of the Red Cross very carefully and the United States is said to be the chief offender in the miscellaneous use of the emblem created for the special purpose of protection in time of war to those who are caring for the sick and wounded.

CAMERA FIEND HOLDS UP STAGE

Girl and Accomplice Play Bandit to Get Realistic Photo.

San Francisco, August 17.—Eighteen passengers on the stage from Harbin Springs to Calistoga were given a bad fright yesterday when the stage was held up by a masked highwayman, who commanded them to dismount and line up on the side of the road. One of the passengers named Silverstein was ordered to return the plunder and saw the robber disappear in the undergrowth. A moment later Miss Hayes, daughter of the proprietor of Harbin Springs, appeared with a camera and explained that the hold-up had been a joke. The passengers were little inclined to regard it as such. Especially angry was Silverstein.

TYPOS FIRM IN 8-HOUR FIGHT.

Convention of International Union Hears Strike Reports.

Colorado Springs, Colo., August 17.—Reports of committees and nominations of cities in the race for the next national convention were the matters of business before the International Typographical Union today. The principal interest in the reports centers in that of the eight-hour day committee, which urges the continuation of the fight now being waged throughout the country in cities where a longer day is in force. The selection of the next meeting place will be made tomorrow, the cities in the race being Vicksburg, Miss.; Hot Springs, Ark.; Springfield, Ill.; Scranton, Pa.; Richmond, Va., and Baltimore, Md.

WOMAN SLEUTH TRAILS MAYOR

Executive of Clinton, Ind., Alleges Plot to Injure Him.

Terre Haute, Ind., August 17.—Mayor D. C. Johnson, of Clinton, Indiana, says that Mrs. Hamilton, claiming to represent a private detective agency at Indianapolis, is in Clinton conspiring with his political enemies; that she was with Herbert White, who afterward threatened to shoot him and dynamite his house. Mayor Johnson says he has twice been waylaid and beaten and the police will give him no protection. Chief of Police Lowrie, who is mayor-elect, says that Johnson is sore because he was beaten for renomination. Mrs. Hamilton says she is in Clinton trying to find a firebug for whose capture a reward is offered.

HELD UP BY FATHER AND SON

Indiana Railroad Men Escape From Robbers, Who Are Captured.

Hobart, Ind., August 17.—Two men believed to be father and son held up the Pennsylvania railroad station here early this morning, and remained in possession of the place for nearly an hour. The night clerk and telegraph operator escaped and gave the alarm. The older man was captured here and the younger at Knox several hours later. They gave the names of Joe Rochester and Michael Jumba, evidently wishing to conceal their relationship. They obtained no booty.

Grudge Against Teacher.

Woodbury, Tenn., August 17.—The public school building on Rock House creek, in the Seventh district of this county, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning, the origin being undoubtedly incendiary. The building was one of the best country school houses in the county and was uninsured. Some time ago the directors of the district were warned by anonymous letters that if a school was given to Elijah Stone in that district the house would be burned.

Miss Ida Mae Wade is visiting in the city.

ENGLERT AND BRYANT

PAGES OF MARINE MARVELS

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 17.—A meeting of the committee having in charge the high, interesting motor boat events that will take place on the waters of Hampton Roads during the Jamestown exposition next year will be held Tuesday, September 11, at the club station of the Motor Boat club of America, in New York City. A better time could not be selected, from the fact that the meeting will be held during the great National Motor Boat carnival week of this club, which starts September 10 and continues until the 15th, thus giving the committee every opportunity of seeing this great national event and studying the details and plans in connection therewith as a basis on which to plan for the exposition events of 1907. Mr. Hugh S. Gambel, secretary of the Motor Boat club of America, and a member of its board of governors, who has been the guest of the exposition officials for several days, has made a careful study of the exposition grounds and the waters adjacent thereto. Mr. Gambel will be able to give the committee some valuable information as to the courses, etc., so that those visiting the exposition might be able to review the various events of the week. Mr. Gambel will also take up the matter of a cruise from all sections of the country to the exposition, by motor boat. Clubs of the north and east, as well as some parts of the west are to rendezvous at the Motor Boat club station on the Hudson river, New York City, and from other parts of the west and south at some convenient place where both bodies may meet, possibly the upper end of Chesapeake Bay, and form in line for a parade into Hampton Roads to the exposition grounds.

STEAM MOTOR CARS.

It will be a matter of interest to individuals or corporations who are contemplating the use of railway motor cars to learn that the Paris & Orleans Railway of France has decided to adopt steam motor cars for operating its line from La Fleche to Saale, experience having shown, so it is claimed, that the cost of operating with such vehicles need be only about 30 percent of the expense of operating with trains.

The company put a steam motor car on the line in 1903, and has now ordered 10 more such cars to extend the service and also to take the place of light trains.

It is notable that a railroad company, especially such an important one as the Paris & Orleans, should now adopt steam motor cars, which are practically a higher development of the old-time dummy cars, at a time when attention is particularly directed toward gasoline motor cars and also to other higher speed cars propelled by gasoline-electric machinery or by mechanism driven wholly by electricity. Yet it must not be forgotten that some of the British roads have adhered to the steam motor car, the contention being that however well adapted gasoline motors might be to the propulsion of automobiles, they were not so well suited to railway conditions as steam motors.

Theatrical Notes
Opening Bill.
In the announcement that "His Highness the Bey" will be the attraction at The Kentucky on Thursday night of next week, the patrons have the assurance of seeing the most delightful musical play of the season. "His Highness the Bey" justly termed "the show with music," represents months of toil and labor and the expenditure of $30,000. The services of the best scenic painters, costumers and stage managers were utilized for this magnificent production. Everything about it is new and bright. The members of the company are artists of wide reputation and the girls forming the chorus are the prettiest specimens of young womanhood it was possible to secure. The songs are of the kind that will be whistled on the streets long after the show has gone and you find yourself humming the music at all times.

Manager Roberts has booked the "Girl and the Bandit" for January 8.

Miss Blackard Entertains.
A delightful entertainment was given last evening by Miss Lucile Blackard, at her home on Jefferson street, complimentary to her brother's guest, Mr. Henry White, of Jackson, Tenn. The house was prettily decorated with flowers and palms arranged in an attractive manner. Games and music were the features of the evening. In the guessing contest Miss Mariana Young captured the prize, a pretty box of stationery. After the games delightful refreshments were served. The guests who enjoyed this pretty hospitality were: Misses Ethel O'Brien, Mariana Young, Hannah Corbett, Ruby Curd, Fred Paxton and Messrs. Henry White, Fred Mack, Will Blackard, Allen and Samuel Winstead.

Lawn Party.
A delightful lawn party was given last evening by Misses Inez Bell and Mary Ripley at their home on South Third street, complimentary to Miss Lillian Hodgkins, of Evansville. The lawn was attractive with its decorations of colored lanterns and flowers and every detail was arranged thoughtfully for the pleasure of the guests. Games were enjoyable features of the earlier part of evening, after which refreshments were served.

Of Local Interest.
Mrs. Bassind, at her home in Brookport, Ill., entertained last evening with a lawn party in honor of two Paducah girls, Misses Hannah Cox and Della Nichols, who are visiting her. The river rose .3 feet in the last 24 hours, the gauge registering a stage of 8.3 this morning. Weather clear but rain predicted. Business at the wharf is only fair.

Emerson's floating palace will get off the ways Saturday afternoon. Pulling the boat out on the ways did not disturb the occupants of the boat who continue to make it their home.

The Harvester will be on the way for a month or more. The Electra probably will be taken out next week.

The government boat Wave Rock was here this morning bringing the surveyors, who finished their work at this point.

It is probable that the Bob Dudley will return to the upper Cumberland river today, as there is deep water in that river.

The Savannah will be due out of the Tennessee river Saturday on the return trip to St. Louis.

The Joe Fowler was the Evansville packet today. The John S. Hopkins arrived last night at 7 o'clock and left at 10 o'clock on the return trip.

The City of Saltillo will leave St. Louis Saturday evening for the round trip to the Tennessee river.

The government towboat American left this morning with a tow of cement, sand and empty barges for Waterloo, Ala., for use on government work in the upper Cumberland.

The Kentucky arrived this morning at 7 o'clock from the Tennessee river and will wait over until Saturday evening at 6 o'clock before returning to the same river.

The towboat Catherine passed up last night with a tow of empties for Louisville.

The Dunbar probably will get off the dry docks Monday.

The Dick Fowler got away this morning for Cairo and way points on time with a good passenger trip.

It is a remarkable fact that the steamboats carried more people on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and their tributaries during the past six months than have ever been carried before in the same length of time. The fact that of the many thousands who have taken river trips not a single life has been lost or a passenger hurt is positive proof that it is safer to travel by river than by rail. More people were killed and crippled in one railroad accident in Pennsylvania recently than on all the steamboats in the United States in three years. Stick to the river. It is safer than railroads. —Courier-Journal.

The freight carried through the Louisville and Portland canal and the falls of the Ohio river at Louisville during June amounted to 98,822 tons, compared with 90,856 in June, 1905, and 65,212 in 1904. Similar movements for the first six months of 1906 aggregate 783,280 tons, of which the principal item was 666,913 tons of coal. The total movement for the corresponding months in 1906 was 1,175,000 tons and in 1904, 1,589,126 tons. —Courier-Journal.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio from Evansville to Cairo, will continue rising during the next two days.

The Tennessee from Florence to this month, no decided change during the next 24 to 36 hours.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Chester, will fall today; from below Chester to Cairo, will continue rising during the next 24 hours.

CANNON'S BOOM FOR PRESIDENCY

Launched at Convention Held at Danville.

Uncle Joe Says Party Can Stand On Record of Roosevelt and This Congress.

SEVENTEENTH NOMINATION

Danville, Ill., August 17.—The convention of the Eighteenth Illinois congressional district renominated Joseph G. Cannon for the eighteenth consecutive time, being the seventeenth nomination by acclamation. There was the greatest enthusiasm, especially over the prospective candidacy of Mr. Cannon for president. Mr. Cannon had not intended to launch a boom for president at this convention, but the pressure of his supporters was so great as to sweep away his wishes in the matter.

Mr. Cannon's supporters in his own district will likely urge the state convention to make similar endorsements. There seems to be little doubt that this will be done.

Cannon's Speech.

Mr. Cannon, after the passage of a resolution endorsing him for the presidency of the United States, said: "The resolution which you have just adopted, coming as it does from those whom I have represented in the national house of representatives for over thirty years, touches me profoundly. I would be less than human did I not appreciate your expression of confidence when you mention my name with approval in connection with the highest office in the gift of the people. I would not exchange your confidence for the gratification of any ambition I might have. It is proper for me to say, however, that we are on the eve of a campaign for the election of a national house of representatives which may involve one-third of the personnel of the United States senate, to say nothing of the campaign in the respective states.

Little Too Early.

"As you are aware the election will be held in November next. In politics as well as in other matters, it is best not to cross a stream until you come to it. The first stream to cross is in November next, and it is necessary that we should be successful in crossing it before we attempt to get over the river in 1908.

"It is vital that the Republican party should remain in power for the coming two years in order that the legislative and executive departments of the government should continue in harmony.

"Speaking for myself, I am not in favor of this legislation demanded by Mr. Gompers. The power of the courts to issue writs of injunction to prevent irreparable injury to property or to a property right for which there is no adequate remedy at law, is older than the constitution and as well established as any other principle of law or equity. The inalienable right of each citizen, be he weak or strong, is to come and go to and from his property without molestation, and to carry on business thereon, and, in the exercise of such right, he is entitled to call upon the government for protection through the courts.

Tribute to Roosevelt.

In conclusion, Speaker Cannon declared:

"In the executive departments of the government the record of the party has been brilliant, courageous and honest, and the name of 'Roosevelt' has become a synonym for all those qualities throughout the realms of civilization. He has been the president of all the people, and he has been tireless in his efforts to serve the people by wise, just and fearless administration of the law. He has been particularly zealous in administering the law against the trusts and combinations of capital which have ignored the old adage of live and let live. The beef trust, the paper trust, the tobacco trust, the drug trust, the coal combination and various combinations of railroads and shippers have felt the heavy hand of the law and learned that it is strong enough to compel them to give all a square deal. The record of trust prosecutions and investigations into their practices is too long to here recite, but it is acknowledged to be most creditable, even by our political opponents.

Congress' Record.

"The congress has worked in harmony with the president and embodied into law more of his recommendations than has fallen to the lot of most chief executives. I believe the record of the Fifty-ninth congress made in its first session will go into history as one of the best records of legislation for the benefit of all the people that has ever been made. The railroad rate law, the pure food law, the meat inspection amendment to the agricultural appropriation act the free alcohol law, the consular reform legislation, the employers' liability law, all enacted at one session of congress, make a record of legislation many years.

"The amendment to the interstate commerce law known as the Elkins law of 1902, and the rate legislation just enacted, coupled with many decisions by the supreme court of the United States, render it reasonably certain that practices which had grown up by large shippers of commodities demanding and receiving from common carriers exceptional rates for transportation not enjoyed by others, is prohibited by law and penalized both as to the railway, or other common carrier, and the shipper. So that it is safe to say that each citizen in the United States will be treated the same as every other citizen."

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

IN CASE OF GUARD AND INSANE MAN.

Leads to Former Being Mistaken for Latter Who Is Entertained at Danville Jail.

Danville, Ky., Aug. 17.—Late last night on account of a delayed train, which caused H. G. Veal, guard at the Lakeland asylum, near Louisville, to miss connection for that point, with Richard Offutt, an insane prisoner from Somerset, he applied at the Danville jail and asked to remain there through the night. Jailer Fitzgerald arose and escorted both men into the prison, the guard going in front.

The night was dark and the jailer did not know the guard from the prisoner. He showed the men a vacant bed in the jail corridor, which could be occupied by the insane man, and started for the door.

The guard got mixed in his movements and was left in the rear, while Offutt followed the jailer outside, declaring that he was the guard. Officer Fitzgerald showed him to the best room in his residence and introduced him to members of his family.

Early this morning the insane man appeared at the jailer's door and stated that his room had taken life and walked away sometime during the night, and that he had been looking all over the place for it without success. The officer became alarmed and rushed to the jail to find Veal greatly exercised, because Offutt is said to be dangerous when attacked with insane spells.

The insane man was taken into immediate charge and carried to Lakeland on the first train. He threw things right and left in the room he occupied, but otherwise did no damage.

SEN. M'CREARY AGAINST REFORM

Says Governor Beckham in Opening Speech.

Charges the Senator With Overlooking Opportunity in Present Congress.

GOES AFTER RECORD OF HAYS.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 17.—Governor Beckham delivered his initial speech in his campaign for senator against James B. McCreary last night to a large audience at the Auditorium at Woodlawn park.

The governor came from Frankfort on the late train and was accompanied by several hundred followers and the Second regiment military band. He held a short reception at the hotel.

His address in the main was a refutation of the charges McCreary made against the administration machine. He then endorsed the candidacy of Bryan for president.

Governor Beckham said that McCreary had allied himself with the lawless element, taking the side of the people who favored disregarding the law requiring saloons to close on the Sabbath, with those who favored the non-obedience to the county unit law, and opposing those who were leaders of the great things done by his administration.

He said that McCreary at the Louisville meeting endorsed Attorney General Hays, who was trying to be elected governor; that Hays had done nothing for the state, failing to attend all important meetings of the executive boards of which he is a member by virtue of his office, failing to give assistance in the management of state affairs. He said that Hays' charge of graft and corruption were untrue and malicious and were known to be untrue when uttered.

He compared his administration with that of McCreary, when he was governor, and said that if McCreary really wanted to do reform work he lost the opportunity in the United States senate, of which he has been a member for the past three years.

The Manager Of the B. & A.

By VAUGHAN KESTER

He took a letter from his pocket, opened it and handed it to the doctor.

"I guess you can see to read this if you will step nearer the street lamp."

The letter was an offer from one of the big eastern lines. While the doctor knew very little of railroads, he understood that the offer was a fine one and was impressed accordingly.

"I'd take it," he said. "I wouldn't fritter away my time here. Precious little thanks you'll ever get."

"I can't honorably break with General Cornish. In fact, I have already declined, but I wanted you to see the letter."

"I am sorry for your sake that you did. You are sure to have more trouble."

"So much the more reason why I should stay."

"I am quite frank with you, Oakley. Some strong influence is at work. No, it hasn't to do with your father. You can't well be held accountable for his acts."

Ryder's laughter reached them as he spoke. Oakley could see him faintly outlined in the moonlight, where he sat between Constance Emory and her mother. The influence was there, it was probably at work at that very moment.

"I wouldn't be made a martyr through any chivalrous sense of duty," continued the doctor. "I'd look out for myself."

Dan laughed again.

"You are preaching cowardice at a great rate."

"Well, what's the use of sacrificing oneself? You possess a most horrible sense of rectitude."

"I would like to ask a favor of you," hesitating.

"I was going to say if there was anything I could do—"

"If you don't mind," with increasing hesitancy, "will you say to Miss Emory for me that I'd like to see her tomorrow afternoon? I'll call about 3—that is."

"Yes, I'll tell her for you."

"Thank you very much. You think she will be at home? Awkwardly, for he was afraid the doctor had misunderstood."

"I fancy so. I can see now, if you wish."

"No, don't. I'll call on the chance of finding her in."

"Just as you prefer."

Oakley extended his hand.

"I won't keep you standing any longer. Somehow our talk has helped me. Good night."

"Good night."

The doctor gazed abstractedly after the young man as he moved down the street, and he continued to gaze after him until he had passed from sight in the shadows that lay beneath the whispering maples.

that Miss Emory would be down in a moment.

When Constance entered the room he advanced a little uncertainly. She extended her hand quite cordially, however. There was no trace of embarrassment or constraint in her manner.

As he took her hand Dan said simply, going straight to the purpose of his call:

"I have thought a good deal over what I want to tell you, Miss Emory. Miss Emory instantly took the alarm and was on the defensive. She enveloped herself in that species of inscrutable feminine reserve men find so difficult to penetrate. She could not imagine what he had to tell her that was so pressing. He was certainly very curious and unconventional. There was one thing she feared he might want to tell her she was firmly determined not to hear.

Oakley drew forward a chair.

"Won't you sit down?" he asked gravely.

"Thank you, yes." It was all so formal they both smiled.

Dan stood with his back to the fireplace, now filled with ferns, and rested an elbow on the mantel. There was an awkward pause. At last he said slowly:

"It seems I've been the subject of a lot of talk during the last two days, and I have been saddled with a matter for which I am in no way responsible, though it appears to reflect on me quite as much as if I were."

"Really, Mr. Oakley," began Constance, scenting danger ahead. But her visitor was in no mood to temporize.

"One moment, please," he said hastily. "You have heard the story from Mr. Ryder."

"I have heard it from others as well."

"It has influenced you?"

"No, I won't say that," defiantly. She was not accustomed to being catechized.

"At least it has caused you to seriously doubt the wisdom of an acquaintance," blurted Oakley.

"You are very unfair," rising, with latent anger.

"You will greatly oblige me by sitting down again."

And Constance, astonished beyond measure at his tone of command, sank back into her chair with a little smoother gasp of surprise. No one had ever ventured to speak to her like that before. It was a new experience.

"We've got to finish this, you know," explained Dan, with one of his frank smiles, and there was a genial simplicity about his smile which was very attractive. Constance, however, was not to be propitiated, but she kept her seat. She was apprehensive lest Oakley would do something more startling and novel if she attempted to cut short the interview.

She stole a glance at him from under her long lashes. He was studying the carpet, apparently quite lost to the enormity of his conduct. "You have heard their side of the story, Miss Emory. I want you to hear mine. It's only fair, isn't it? You have heard that my father is an ex-convict?"

"Yes," with a tinge of regret.

"That he is a murderer?" plunging ahead mercilessly.

"Yes."

"And this is influencing you?"

"I suppose it is," helplessly. "It would naturally. It was a great shock to us all."

"Yes," agreed Dan, "I can understand, I think, just how you must look at it."

"We are very, very sorry for you, Mr. Oakley. I want to explain my manner last night. The whole situation was so excessively awkward. I am sure you must have felt it."

"I did," shortly.

"Oh, dear, I hope you didn't think me unkind."

"No." Then he added, a trifle wearily: "It's taken me all this time to realize my position. I suppose I owe you some sort of an apology. You must have thought me fearfully thick skinned."

"He hoped she would say no, but he was disappointed. Her conscience had been troubling her, and she was perfectly willing to share her remorse with him since he was so ready to assume a part of it. She was as conventional as extreme respectability could make her, but she had never liked Oakley half so well. She admired his courage. He didn't whine. His very stupidity was in its way admirable, but not so certainly too had he could not see just how impossible he was under the circumstances."

Dan raised his eyes to hers. "Miss Emory, the only time I remember to have seen my father until he came here a few weeks ago was through the grating of his cell door. My mother took me there as a little boy. When she died I came west, where no one knew me. I had already learned that, because of him, I was somehow judged and condemned too. It has always been hanging over me. I have always feared exposure. I suppose I can hush it up after awhile, but there will always be some one to tell it to whoever will listen. It is no longer a secret."

"Was it fair to your friends, Mr. Oakley, that it was a secret?"

"I can't see what business it was of theirs. It is nothing I have done, and, anyhow, I have never had any friends until now I cared especially about."

FAT POCKETBOOK FOUND ON STREET

"Shorty" Scott Makes Owner
Glad By His Honesty.

W. J. Lewis Drops His Wallet Full of Bills on Third Street Near Broadway.

HAD NEVER MISSED HIS ROLL.

Walter Scott, better known as "Shorty," who keeps a hamburger and tamale stand on Third street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue, saw a fat pocketbook lying on the pavement in front of his stand last night about 8 o'clock. He asked a friend standing near to hand it to him.

"I don't guess there is anything in this fat old book," Shorty declared as he opened it. He was much surprised to take out a flat layer of bills of $50 and $20 denominations and a check for $50. An owner was found a short time after, but he did not know that he had lost it until Scott asked him to feel for his pocketbook.

The owner is W. J. Lewis, a conductor on the N. & C. St. L. railroad, residing at 1008 Trimble street. He was standing in front of the tamale stand eating a hamburger. He pulled his handkerchief out of his hip pocket, where he kept the pocketbook, and it fell out when the handkerchief was brought to view unnoticed to Mr. Lewis or any one else. He had been gone a short time only when the pocketbook was found. He returned in fifteen minutes with a friend and discovered that his property had been found and was in good hands.

The total amount of money in the pocketbook was $212 in cash and a check for $50.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS

Public notice is hereby given that the regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company will be held at the company's office in Chicago, Illinois, on Wednesday, October 17, 1906, at two o'clock, noon.

To permit personal attendance at said meeting there will be issued to each holder of one or more shares of the capital stock of the Illinois Central Railroad company as registered on the books of the company at the close of business on Monday, September 24, 1906, who is of full age, a ticket entitling him, or her, to travel free over the company's lines from the station on the Illinois Central railroad nearest to his or her registered address to Chicago and return such ticket to be good for the journey to Chicago only during the four days immediately preceding, and the day of the meeting, and for the return journey from Chicago, only on the day of the meeting, and the four days immediately following, when properly countersigned and stamped during business hours, on or before Saturday, October 20, 1906—that is to say, between 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m.—in the office of the assistant secretary, Mr. W. G. Bruen, in Chicago. Such ticket may be obtained by any holder of stock registered as above on application, in writing, to the president of the company in Chicago, but each stockholder must individually apply for his or her ticket. Each application must state the full name and address of the stockholder exactly as given in his or her certificate of stock together with the number and date of such certificate. No more than one person will be carried free in respect to any one holding of stock as registered on the books of the company.

SILENCE BROKEN BY J. W. WARREN

United States.

NATIVES HATE FOREIGNERS.

After a silence of seven years Mr. J. W. Warren, a brother of Mr. W. N. Warren, the Paducah jeweler, has written his brother a letter apprising him of his whereabouts, but the letter is not by any means encouraging. The brother's position is one of peril and he bids fair to experience something of a miniature war.

Mr. J. W. Warren has not been heard from in seven years and his brother here knew nothing of his whereabouts and had no way to locate him. "I received a letter from him yesterday," Mr. Warren stated, "and he is located in the central western part of Mexico working in the gold mines. He is employed as one of the bosses, and states that there is trouble coming between Mexico and Uncle Sam."

"He tells me that the Mexicans have threatened to drive all Americans from the country, and that the work will begin in September. The natives allege that the Americans are making too much money, and they do not intend to stand for it."

"Preparation among the natives convince the foreigners that the natives are in earnest, and my brother writes that the company has fortified the plantation where its mines are located. Guns of all description, rapid fire guns, etc., are being used."

Thomas Hawkins against steamer Monie Bauer.

Whereas a libel was filed in the district court of the United States, for the western district of Kentucky, at Paducah on the 8th day of August, 1906, by Thomas Hawkins vs. steamer Monie Bauer, her engines, tackle, apparel, furniture, etc., and owners, alleging in substance that said steamer was indebted to him in the sum of three hundred and seven dollars, for their insolence has reached a high degree, Japanese armed military engineers are openly sketching the Vladivostok fortifications, while the Japanese living in Vladivostok and the Amur country ignore the Russian authorities.

"Japan purposely declined to permit outsiders having anything to do with the Portsmouth treaty, which was therefore unwitnessed, uncertified and unguaranteed. Our presence on the Amur and in Vladivostok forces the Mikado to maintain an army and fleet there, tying his hands so that he is compelled meekly to accept such incident as the killing of seal poachers by the Americans. This is the secret of Japan's anxiety to drive us beyond the Amur, there by gaining a province and freedom of action."

"We believe that America and countries of Europe having interests in the far east should guarantee the status quo."

Two plans are open to the city. It can condemn the right of way or secure grants from the property owners or confine the extension at present to that part of the district that can be reached without going onto private property.

The latter plan is advocated by City Solicitor Campbell, and he suggested that nothing further be done until Monday when Engineer Alvord can see the plans, and possibly rearrange them so as to keep off private property, at least, out Broadway where the school building is to be reached.

To await until rights of way can be secured or condemnation proceedings what is the matter with her?

"Better not go too near. Maybe the heat has affected her mind."

"Poor thing! Maybe it is over-study."

"Land sakes! She might be one of these here anarchists."

"Bet she has been disappointed in love."

Suddenly the beautiful girl smiled.

"It's all right now," she said sweetly.

"What's all right?" asked the crowd, breathless with suspense.

"Why, my waist. A button came loose in the back and I had such an awful time reaching it. But it's all right now."

And then the crowd melted away like ice cream in a summer sun. — Chicago News.

Paris Green on Tobacco.

It develops that the farmers are using paris green very freely to destroy tobacco worms. The remedy is effective, it simply slays the worms by the wholesale, and it seems to be the only salivator for saving the crop.

Some people are afraid of it, and hesitate to use the deadly poison. Connecticut has a strict and severe law against its use on tobacco. However, if good rains follow after its use, washing the poison from the leaves, there is no danger in paris green unless it gets in the stomach, in which event the smallest portion is deadly. But people chewing tobacco don't have to swallow it. In fact, do not, as the tobacco itself is sickening to the stomach. It is estimated that the crop this year will be short and worth a heap of money, and every farmer will protect the crop against the worms. — Mayfield Messenger.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such childrenless couples when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to a child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

"Good night."

The doctor gazed abstractedly after the young man as he moved down the street, and he continued to gaze after him until he had passed from sight in the shadows that lay beneath the whispering maples.

CHAPTER XIII.

PERHAPS it showed lack of proper feeling, but Oakley managed to sleep off a good deal of his emotional stress, and when he left his hotel the next morning he was quite his usual again.

His attitude toward the world was the decently cheerful one of the man who is earning a good salary, and whose personal cares are far from being numerous or pressing. He was still capable of looking out for Cornish's interests, and his own, too, if the need arose.

He went down to the office alert and vigorous. As he strode along he nodded and smiled at the people he met on the street. If the odium of his father's crime was to attach itself to him it might be without his help. Antioch might count him callous if it liked, but it must not think him weak.

His first official act was to go for Kerr, who was unusually cantankerous, and he gave that frigid gentleman a scare which lasted him for the better part of a week, for Kerr, who had convinced himself overnight that Oakley must resign, saw himself having full swing with the Huckleberry and was disposed to treat his superior with airy indifference. He had objected to hunting up an old order book Dan wished to see on the score that he was too busy, whereas, as Holt expressed it, the latter "jumped on him with both feet." His second official act was to serve formal notice on Brannon that he was dismissed from the shops. He was even harsh with Miss Walton, and took exception to her spelling of a typewritten letter which he was sending off to Cornish in London.

He also inspected every department in the shops and was glad of an excuse he discovered to reprimand Joe Stokes, who was stockkeeper in the carpenter's room, for the slovenly manner in which the stock was handled. Then he returned to the office and as a matter of discipline kept Kerr busy all the rest of the morning hauling dusty order books from a dark closet. He felt that if excitement was what was wanted he was the one to furnish it. He had been too easy.

Naturally the office force gave a deep sigh of satisfaction when Oakley closed his desk and announced that he was going uptown and would not return. Miss Walton confided to Kerr that she just hoped he would never come back.

It was a little before 3 o'clock when Dan presented himself at the Emorys. The maid who answered his ring ushered him into the parlor with marked trepidation. She was a timid soul. Then she swished from the room, but returned almost immediately to say that Miss Emory would be down in a moment.

When Constance entered the room he advanced a little uncertainly. She extended her hand quite cordially, however. There was no trace of embarrassment or constraint in her manner.

As he took her hand Dan said simply, going straight to the purpose of his call:

"I have thought a good deal over what I want to tell you, Miss Emory. Miss Emory instantly took the alarm and was on the defensive. She enveloped herself in that species of inscrutable feminine reserve men find so difficult to penetrate. She could not imagine what he had to tell her that was so pressing. He was certainly very curious and unconventional. There was one thing she feared he might want to tell her which she was firmly determined not to hear.

Oakley drew forward a chair.

"Won't you sit down?" he asked gravely.

"Thank you, yes." It was all so formal they both smiled.

Dan stood with his back to the fireplace, now filled with ferns, and rested an elbow on the mantel. There was an awkward pause. At last he said slowly:

"It seems I've been the subject of a lot of talk during the last two days, and I have been saddled with a matter for which I am in no way responsible, though it appears to reflect on me quite as much as if I were."

"Really, Mr. Oakley," began Constance, scenting danger ahead. But her visitor was in no mood to temporize.

"One moment, please," he said hastily. "You have heard the story from Mr. Ryder."

"I have heard it from others as well."

"It has influenced you?"

"No, I won't say that," defiantly. She was not accustomed to being catechized.

"At least it has caused you to seriously doubt the wisdom of an acquaintance," blurted Oakley.

"You are very unfair," rising, with latent anger.

"You will greatly oblige me by sitting down again."

And Constance, astonished beyond measure at his tone of command, sank back into her chair with a little smothered gasp of surprise. No one had ever ventured to speak to her like that before. It was a new experience.

"We've got to finish this, you know," explained Dan, with one of his frankest smiles, and there was a genial simplicity about his smile which was very attractive. Constance, however, was not to be propitiated, but she kept her seat. She was apprehensive lest Oakley would do something more startling and novel if she attempted to cut short the interview.

She stole a glance at him from under her long lashes. He was studying the carpet, apparently quite lost to the enormity of his conduct. "You have heard their side of the story, Miss Emory. I want you to hear mine. It's only fair, isn't it? You have heard that my father is an ex-convict?"

"Yes," with a tinge of regret.

"That he is a murderer?" plunging ahead mercilessly.

"Yes."

"And this is influencing you?"

"I suppose it is," helplessly. "It would naturally. It was a great shock to us all."

"Yes," agreed Dan, "I can understand, I think, just how you must look at it."

"We are very, very sorry for you, Mr. Oakley. I want to explain my manner last night. The whole situation was so excessively awkward. I am sure you must have felt it."

"I did," shortly.

"Oh, dear, I hope you didn't think me unkind?"

"No." Then he added, a trifle wearily: "It's taken me all this time to realize my position. I suppose I owe you some sort of an apology. You must have thought me fearfully thick skinned."

He hoped she would say no, but he was disappointed. Her conscience had been troubling her, and she was perfectly willing to share her remorse with him since he was so ready to assume a part of it. She was as conventional as extreme respectability could make her, but she had never liked Oakley half so well. She admired his courage. He didn't whine. His very stupidity was in its way admirable, but it was certainly too bad he could not see just how impossible he was under the circumstances.

Dan raised his eyes to hers. "Miss Emory, the only time I remember to have seen my father until he came here a few weeks ago was through the grating of his cell door. My mother took me there as a little boy. When she died I came west, where no one knew me. I had already learned that, because of him, I was somehow judged and condemned too. It has always been hanging over me. I have always feared exposure. I suppose I can hush it up after awhile, but there will always be some one to tell it to whoever will listen. It is no longer a secret."

"Was it fair to your friends, Mr. Oakley, that it was a secret?"

"I can't see what business it was of theirs. It is nothing I have done, and, anyhow, I have never had any friends until now I cared especially about."

FAT POCKETBOOK FOUND ON STREET

"Shorty" Scott Makes Owner Glad By His Honesty.

W. J. Lewis Drops His Wallet Full of Bills on Third Street Near Broadway.

HAD NEVER MISSED HIS ROLL.

Waiter Scott, better known as "Shorty," who keeps a hamburger and tamale stand on Third street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue, saw a fat pocketbook lying on the pavement in front of his stand last night about 8 o'clock. He asked a friend standing near to hand it to him.

"I don't guess there is anything in this fat old book," Shorty declared as he opened it. He was much surprised to take out a fat layer of bills of $50 and $20 denominations and a check for $50. An owner was found a short time after, but he did not know that he had lost it until Scott asked him to feel for his pocketbook.

The owner is W. J. Lewis, a conductor on the N. C. & St. L. railroad, residing at 1008 Trimble street. He was standing in front of the tamale stand eating a hamburger. He pulled his handkerchief out of his hip pocket, where he kept the pocketbook, and it fell out when the handkerchief was brought to view unnoticed to Mr. Lewis or any one else. He had been gone a short time only when the pocketbook was found. He returned in fifteen minutes with a friend and discovered that his property had been found and was in good hands.

The total amount of money in the pocketbook was $212 in cash and a check for $50.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS

Public notice is hereby given that the regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company will be held at the company's office in Chicago, Illinois, on Wednesday, October 17, 1906, at two o'clock, noon.

To permit personal attendance at said meeting there will be issued to each holder of one or more shares of the capital stock of the Illinois Central Railroad company as registered on the books of the company at the close of business on Monday, September 24, 1906, who is of full age, a ticket enabling him, or her, to travel free over the company's lines from the station on the Illinois Central railroad nearest to his or her registered address to Chicago and return such ticket to be good for the journey to Chicago only during the four days immediately preceding, and the day of the meeting, and for the return journey from Chicago, only on the day of the meeting, and the four days immediately following.

When properly countersigned and stamped during business hours, on or before Saturday, October 20, 1906—that is to say, between 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m.—in the office of the assistant secretary, Mr. W. G. Bruen, in Chicago. Such ticket may be obtained by any holder of stock registered as above on application, in writing, to the president of the company in Chicago, but each stockholder must individually apply for his or her ticket. Each application must state the full name and address of the stockholder exactly as given in his or her certificate of stock together with the number and date of such certificate. No more than one person will be carried free in respect to any one holding of stock as registered on the books of the company.

SILENCE BROKEN BY J. W. WARREN

Is Employed in Gold Mine in Mountains of Mexico.

Writes Interestingly of Conditions There, Which Indicate War With United States.

NATIVES HATE FOREIGNERS.

After a silence of seven years Mr. J. W. Warren, a brother of Mr. W. N. Warren, the Paducah jeweler, has written his brother a letter apprising him of his whereabouts, but the letter is not by any means encouraging. The brother's position is one of peril and he bids fair to experience something of a miniature war.

Mr. J. W. Warren has not been heard from in seven years and his whereabouts and had no way to locate him. "I received a letter from him yesterday," Mr. Warren stated, "and he is located in the central western part of Mexico working in the gold mines. He is employed as one of the bosses, and states that there is trouble coming between Mexico and Uncle Sam."

"He tells me that the Mexicans have threatened to drive all Americans from the country, and that the work will begin in September. The natives allege that the Americans are making too much money, and they do not intend to stand for it."

"Preparation among the natives to convince the foreigners that the natives are in earnest, and my brother writes that the company has fortified the plantation where its mines are located. Guns of all description, rapid fire weapons, etc., are being sent from Chicago Monday."

When City Solicitor Campbell was preparing the ordinance for the sewer work this morning, using the plans in City Engineer Washington's office to aid him, he discovered that the sewer route traverses the property of several citizens.

This discovery put an end to his labors. He immediately called into consultation Mayor Yetser and other city officials and explained to them that the city cannot construct the sewer until it has secured consent of the property owners to the use of their land.

Two plans are open to the city. It can condemn the right of way or secure grants from the property owners or confine the extension at present to that part of the district that can be reached without going onto private property.

The latter plan is advocated by City Solicitor Campbell, and he suggested that nothing further be done until Monday when Engineer Alvord can see the plans, and possibly rearrange them so as to keep off private property, at least, out Broadway where the school building is to be reached.

To await until rights of way can be secured or condemnation proceedings are the matter with her.

"Better not go too near. Maybe the heat has affected her mind."

"Poor thing! Maybe it is over-sensitively."

"Land sakes! She might be one of these here anarchists."

"Bet she has been disappointed in love."

Suddenly the beautiful girl smiled.

"It's all right now," she said sweetly.

"What's all right?" asked the crowd, breathless with suspense.

"Why, my waist. A button came loose in the back and I had such a awful time reaching it. But it's all right now."

And then the crowd melted away like ice cream in a summer sun. — Chicago News.

Paris Green on Tobacco.

It develops that the farmers are using paris green very freely to destroy tobacco worms. The remedy is effective, it simply slays the worms by the wholesale, and it seems to be the only salve for saving the crop.

Some people are afraid of it, and hesitate to use the deadly poison. Connecticut has a strict and severe law against its use on tobacco. However, if good rains follow after its use, washing the poison from the leaves, there is no danger in paris green unless it gets in the stomach, in which event the smallest portion is deadly. But people chewing tobacco don't have to swallow it. In fact, do not, as the tobacco itself is sickening to the stomach. It is estimated that the crop this year will be short and worth a heap of money, and every farmer will protect the crop against the worms. — Mayfield Messenger.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by the skillful operative treatment at the Javal's Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures. In fact, that no other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for women's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

Thomas Hawkins against steamer Monte Bauer.

Whereas a libel was filed in the district court of the United States, for the western district of Kentucky, at Paducah on the 8th day of August, 1906, by Thomas Hawkins vs. steamer Monte Bauer, her engines, tackle, apparel, furniture, etc., and owners, alleging in substance that said steamer was indebted to him in the sum of three hundred and seven dollars, for his services rendered.

"Their insolence has reached a high degree, Japanese armed military engineers are openly sketching the Vladivostok fortifications, while the Japanese living in Vladivostok and the Amur country ignore the Russian authorities."

"Japan purposely declined to permit outsiders having anything to do with the Portsmouth treaty, which was therefore unratified, unconfirmed and unguaranteed. Our presence on the Amur and in Vladivostok forces the Mikado to maintain an army and fleet there, tying his hands so that he is compelled meekly to accept such incident as the killing of seal poachers by the Americans. This is the secret of Japan's anxiety to drive us beyond the Amur, thereby gaining a province and freedom of action."

"We believe that America and countries of Europe having interests in the far east should guarantee the status quo."

EARTHQUAKE

CAUSES GREAT DAMAGE AND LOSS OF LIFE.

Thousands of Women

ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that it Really Does Make Sick Women Well.

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatments for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished such widespread results for good? Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructive ever discovered to act directly upon the female system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dare to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), weakness, displacements, inflammation, ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Any woman who writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

SALOONKEEPERS SUED ON BONDS

City Seeking to Recover $1,000 From Two of Them.

L. A. Morgan and J. D. Overstreet Made Defendants in Circuit Court By Solicitor.

DR. HOWELL WANTS BENEFITS.

Suits were filed today in the circuit court by City Solicitor James Campbell to recover on the bonds of J. D. Overstreet and L. A. Morgan, whose saloon licenses were revoked. The suits are for $1,000 each. Overstreet conducted a saloon at Eighth and Boyd streets and Morgan at 825 Washington street. Overstreet's bondsmen are T. J. Bergdoll and William Hoerber. The Illinois Surety company is on the bond of L. A. Morgan.

Sues for Sick Benefits.

Dr. I. B. Howell, the well known dentist, has filed two suits in circuit court against insurance companies to collect money for sickness. One is against the Aetna Life Insurance company and the other against the Travelers Insurance company. He states that he was taken ill of appendicitis and was operated on in Nashville. He has a sick clause in both policies and states he has failed to collect. He sues for $210.65 in each suit.

Sent to Reform School.

Ethel Jones, a 14-year-old orphan, was this morning sentenced to three years in the state reform school. The complaint was made by members of the police force. She came originally from Graves county but for the last year or two has made her home in Paducah. She has been acting disorderly, so the testimony showed, and when asked if she wanted to go to the school stated that she did. Juvenile Judge R. T. Lightfoot appointed captain Joe Collins, of fire company No. 1, the committee to take her to Lexington.

Deaths Filed.

DEATHS OF A DAY

Ed Englert.

Ed Englert, 31 years old, a prominent Illinois Central machinist, died at 3 o'clock this morning at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. John Tranham, 713 South Tenth street, of tuberculosis, after an illness lasting over two years. His health began to fail him two years ago and he was forced to quit work at the Illinois Central shops and go west. He was little benefited by the trip and returned home several months ago. Since that time he had been growing rapidly worse until death relieved his suffering this morning. He leaves one daughter, Mary Englert, 6 years old; two brothers, Messrs. George Elchorn, of Mound City, Ill., and William Englert, of Paducah; and one sister, Mrs. John Tranham, of Paducah. His wife died of tuberculosis three years ago. The funeral will be conducted from St. Frances de Sales church Sunday.

N. M. Holeman.

N. M. Holeman, proprietor of the Arcadia hotel, at Dawson Springs, died Thursday morning, following a stroke of paralysis sustained the previous night. He was sitting on the steps of the hotel talking with guests when the stroke seized him. He never spoke afterwards. He was 71 years old and is survived by a family, some of whose members reside in Madisonville. The funeral and burial will take place at Madisonville tomorrow afternoon.

POLE LICENSE

May Be Charged By City If Ordinance Is Adopted.

An ordinance, providing for a license of $1.50 for each telephone, telegraph or trolley pole erected on the streets of Paducah, is being considered and may be introduced in the general council, if found practicable.

Council Will Meet.

The general council has been called to meet tonight in committee of the whole to decide in what manner the contract for the sewer work shall be let. City Solicitor Campbell has rendered the opinion that the city cannot issue bonds for the purpose without calling an election.

"ALLEY GUNS"

SECURE $100 FINE AND JAIL SENTENCE FOR MAN.

Short Acquaintance With the Paducah Brands Played Havoc With Discretion.

Revolvers, Derringers, horse pistols and every class of "gun" have figured in heavy fines in police court, but the "alley gun" this morning took the lead.

To throw an "alley gun" (rocks) or two cost Frank Holloway, a well dressed white man, $100 and costs and ten days in jail. He wanted the ten days knocked off and Judge Puryear stated he would talk with him later.

"Well, I think Judge, that I am in condition to talk to you after that fine," Holloway replied. The shock acted like a turkish bath. The evidence showed that Holloway had gone out to celebrate. He had not been in Paducah long and did not know the results of mixed brands. "I guess I got ten or fifteen too many," he explained. "but, any way, I do not remember of throwing any bricks, buckets or rocks through Mr. Weille's window. I certainly am sorry for the matter and promise you that it shall be my last spree. I never intend to touch intoxicants again."

Judge Puryear is deliberating on "knocking off" the ten day jail sentence.

The case against Edgar Jeffords for beating a horse belonging to Mr. James Glauber was continued.

Other cases were C. E. Gridley, breach of ordinance, left open; Adolph Well, breach of ordinance, continued; Tom Carter colored, breach of peace, $50 and costs.

Thought Dead for Years.

Pana, Ill., August 17.—William Smith an aged resident of this city, yesterday met his son, John H. Smith, of Fairmount, Neb., the first time in 28 years. Ten years ago the father received word that his son was dead, and was greatly surprised when his son entered the old home. William Smith and son enlisted in the army in 1861, the father serving three years and the son until the war was over. They became separated and for the past ten years both believed each other dead. A big dinner was a feature, and in the evening the son departed for his home, having come all the way to spend one day with his aged parents.
